Growing Up . . .

From its inception as a junior college in 1963 to its approved plans to add masters programs in 1984, Kennesaw College has undergone many and vast changes. Buildings have been added and others remodeled; due to the enormous increase in numbers of students, the support and encouragement by faculty members — particularly those charter members who are still here — have enabled us to grow into — college that is competitive with larger universities. Without those faculty members, Kennesaw College might not be what it is today. Our students also have contributed to Kennesaw's growth. They are not all traditional 18 to 22 year olds. Many are older, have full-time jobs and family responsibilities. Their diverse backgrounds and experiences enrich the overall life of Kennesaw's students. But whether 18 or 50, students are able to realize their own potentials for growth at Kennesaw. Together, our faculty and our administration are working to allow the college to change and to grow — to grow up and go up.

Dancing

Celebrate through dance. From 1967 to 1984, we witnessed many and varied dance steps and bands. We think there have been a few noticeable changes. Can you discern 1967 from 1984?

Dance Ensemble Performs

The performing arts at Kennesaw College are well represented by the Dance Ensemble and Opera Theatre.

The Kennesaw College Dance Ensemble gave two spring concerts that were enjoyed by all in attendance.

The dance troupe included Dewayne Barrett, Susan Endicott, Kathleen Fagan, Chris Flori, Jeff Glattstein, Cindy Gilbert, Julie Ann Gresham, Jacki Korengel, Sherry Moon, Rita Pettit, and Jeanne Strudthoff. The production was coordinated and directed by Carolynn Mann.

The Kennesaw College Opera Theatre, under the direction of Donna White Angel, presented Carlisle Floyd's "Susannah" as part of the 1984 Young Artist Series of Cobb County.

This musical drama was performed at the Cobb County Civic Center and was sung in original English, with orchestra, Steven Everett, conductor.

Visions

Visions: The Student Art Guild is one of Kennesaw's newest campus organizations. Formulated for the purpose of creating interest and further enrichment in the area of visual arts, this organization exhibits high potential in becoming one of Kennesaw's most outstanding organizations.

KAAS

KAAS, The Kennesaw Association of Accounting Students, is an active college organization on campus. This organization was formulated to honor and encourage those students who have done outstanding work in the field of accounting. KAAS officers included Joanne Thurston, Mary Lavery, Janice Niehoff, and Tina Miller for the 1983-84 school year.

PSA

The Palestenian Student Association is a Kennesaw organization comprised of students who are interested in the recent happenings in the Middle East. Faculty advisor for this group is Dr. Mary Zoghby.

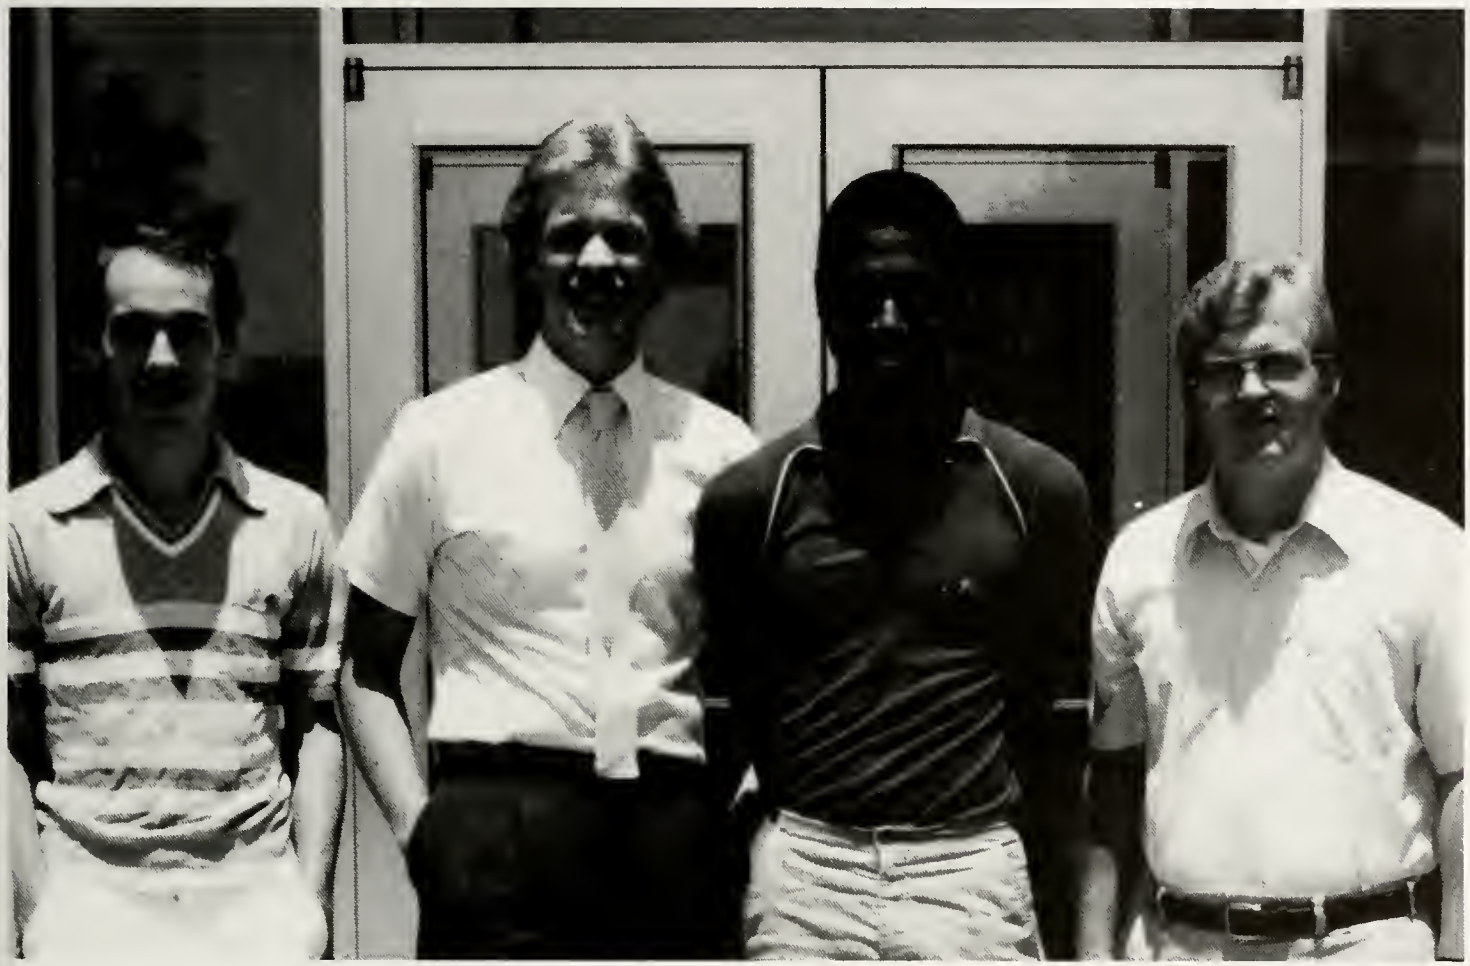
Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta is a professional society established for the purpose of encouraging historical studies. Phi Alpha Theta gives students and teachers a chance to exchange ideas, and an opportunity to learn of exciting historical events of the past and present. This group was led by Linda Sistrunk, Concetta Esposito, Suzanne Hall and Ida Dixon.

Life Science

The Life Science Club is composed of biology students who wish to further their knowledge in such areas as ecology, geology, marine biology and botany. Students in this group took part in such activities as campus seminars and field trips. Bruce Robinson, Katrina Bergbauer and John Travis were officers.

Phi Mu Alpha



Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia is a national music fraternity. Officers for the 1983-84 school year were Richie Lumpkin, Jeff Odem, Jimmy Dorsey, Todd Evans and Eric Kuhn.

Years In Review

Kennesaw College encourages each student to reach his or her own potential. Our students strive for personal and academic goals. Kennesaw College's community rejoices with each student when his goals are obtained.

knowing the past is past and knowing the future is a second
away from now, here i am.

and if i'm here
i see that a school is more
than a place for answers.
without questions
a school cannot exist.

kennesaw, you big parking lot,
what can we do?

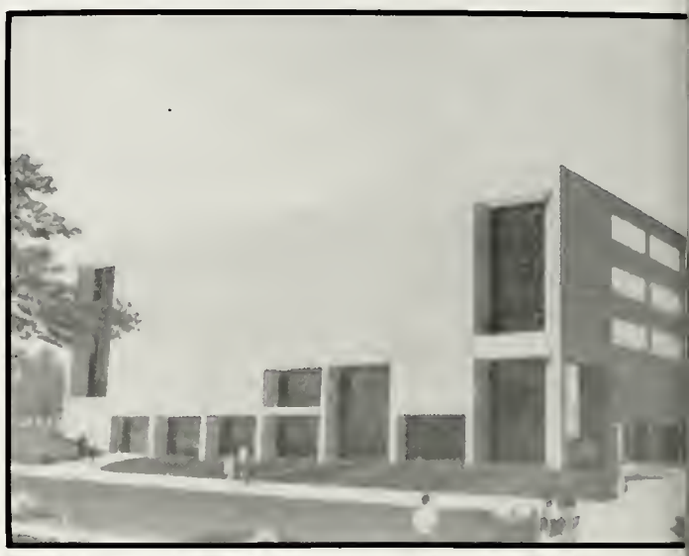
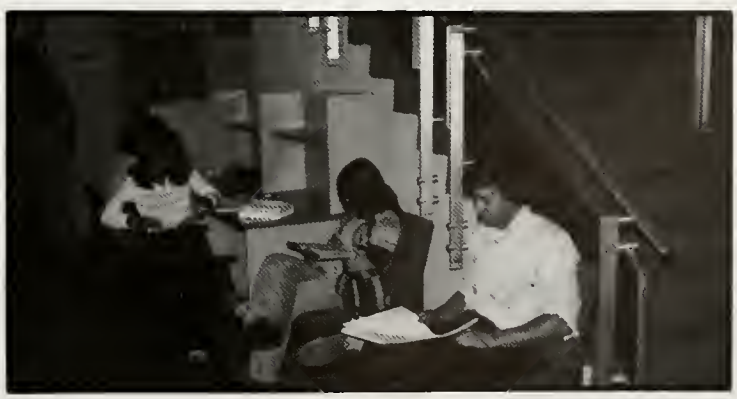
CHANGE

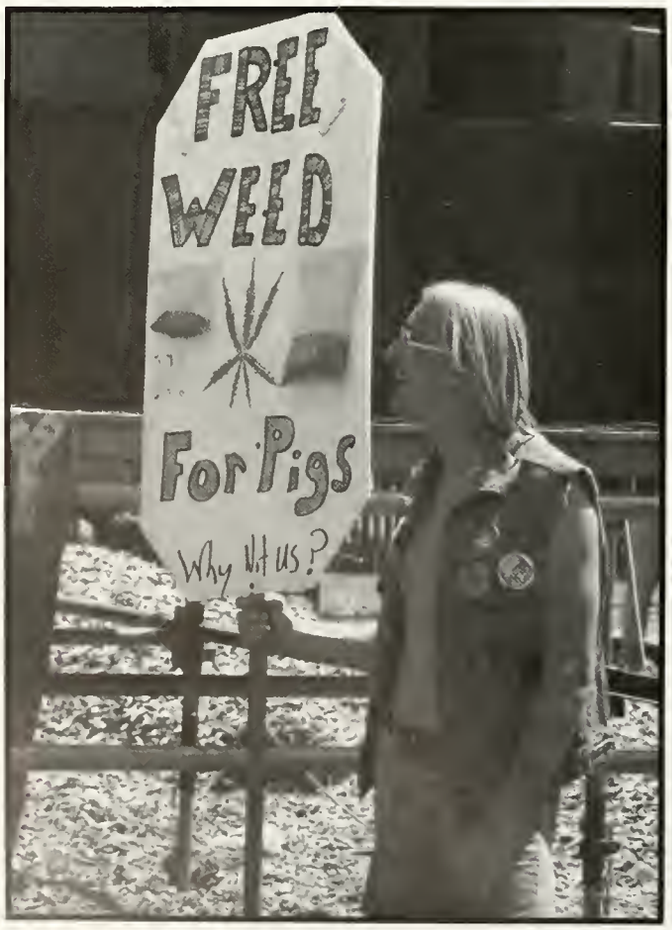


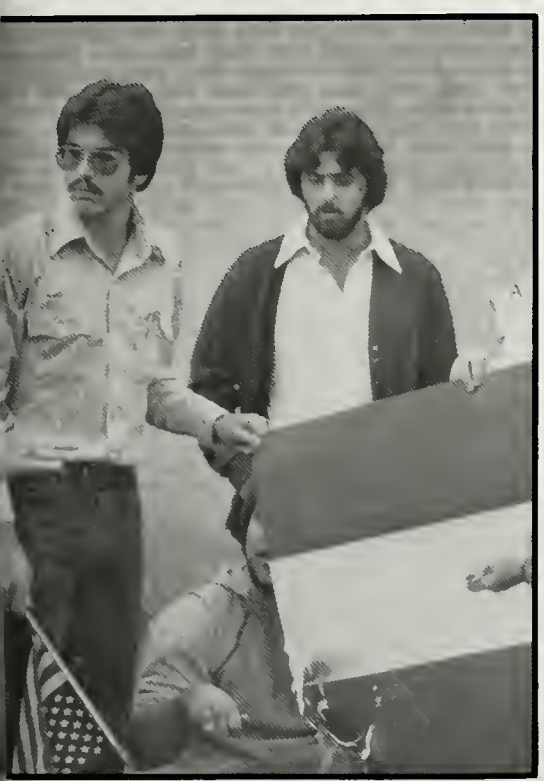
As our enrollment has increased, so has the need for new buildings. In 1976, the addition of the James V. Carmichael Student Center was celebrated by students, faculty and administrators.



PURPOSE

Kennesaw College students are idealistic about politics and the future.





Academic Excellence

Kennesaw students strive for academic excellence.

REFLECTIONS

This yearbook has been published through tears, frustration, and many extended deadlines. Through this experience of struggle and determination, we believe this yearbook captures a frail but existing spark of spirit at Kennesaw. This tiny spark contributed by caring students completed a yearbook of which we can be proud.

We want that spark of school spirit to become a torch — one that ignites our student body to become involved in Kennesaw College activities.

We challenge the faculty of Kennesaw College to inspire the students on campus to be more active in campus and social activities by setting an example of involvement and by issuing words of encouragement.

We challenge the students to take part in their own history. Students can have an effect on issues if they will band together and tackle them as a unit, not with violence or with militant attitudes, but by working through and with the system. We can either sit and watch our history pass by or we can make it happen.

We extend a challenge to each student at Kennesaw College to actively participate in a club, an organization, or a committee to illustrate caring and community feeling for the college. If each students gives forth a tiny spark of spirit, the excitement at Kennesaw College can grow and extend throughout the campus community. The commitment to Kennesaw should not only be for academic excellent, but also for high self-esteem and pride in our college.

Pride and love for Kennesaw College contributed to the completion of this yearbook. The original staff in the fall developed a tremendous theme of Celebration. Due to extenuating circumstances, the fall staff was unable to complete any section. At the end of spring quarter, eight students felt strongly about the existence of this yearbook and gave up their one free week during the summer break. These students juggled family activities, rescheduled or shortened vacations, and worked many hours in addition to their jobs in order to complete the MONTAGE.

Special recognition is given to Cheryl Segal, publication coordinator, and Dale Bennett, our yearbook representative for not given up on the faltering yearbook. We would especially like to commend for their tireless efforts to complete the MONTAGE: Dan Brooks, Robin Gant, Daryl Gessner, Cheryl Jimenez, Joseph Price, and Joanne Thurston.

Celebrate life, celebrate growth, celebrate with Kennesaw College and help it continue to grow in its commitment to excellence and to each student's needs in our college community. Celebrate our College's 20 year history with renewed energy and college spirit.
